Lots of unexpected work after the hackathon was over, but fun overall.

thanks so much for putting on the event!

It was very cool experience, and the hybrid mode was really nice. But the last day was very difficult to see the demos of the people that were in Bielefeld for the online people.

Very interesting communication platform, though a product that is not yet polished but functional and useful. Concepts were cool and I learned a lot about new ideas for ecology.

It was fun and really refreshing. interdisciplinary connections and perspectives were one of the most interesting aspects. would repeat without hesitation

Thanks for the opportunity! It was great. Although projects were not defined previously, we were free to include the different strengths easily. Maybe helping participants to make their idea more conc

Please make further submission requirements (like the report) clear from the beginning. That was a lot of work.

It was a great experience and great to see our project come together in such a short time and with a great interdisciplinary team effort

This was an illuminating experience for me as this is a new field I haven't fully dived in. The hackathon was well organized and the atmosphere was fun and engaging. I enjoyed it!

It's important for ML students to learn more about the topics they want to create tools for. This interdisciplinary approach bridges the gap between those who make the tools and those use it.

It was an inspiring event, i feel fueled to learn more about ecological restoration efforts and want to contribute to these efforts.
